To whom it may concern,

In my thirty plus years as a Captain / Engineer I have had the opportunity to work with many different types of crew members, and Chef Ronald Johnson is the most efficient and capable crew member I have encountered. Chef Johnson is an excellent employee who is hard working, conscientious, and trustworthy and he exemplifies the ideal qualities of a culinary professional in every aspect.

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation on behalf of Chef Johnson. Unfortunately he was only able to work with us from May 8, 2008 to June 16, 2008, while our permanent chef was away on vacation. During his time on board, he performed his duties with the utmost professionalism and was complimented by the entire crew as the best chef they had ever encountered.

Chef Johnson will be missed by the entire crew, and I have no hesitation in recommending him for any culinary position as he would be an asset to anyone fortunate enough to have him as an employee. I wish him all the good fortune for the future, in any venture he may undertake, and I would not hesitate to welcome him back as a permanent employee.

Yours
